H. W. O'Melveny Honored By City

CCNA — Henry William O'Melveny, who graduated from Los Angeles High School with the first class in 1875 and who was the first president of the LA High School Alumni Association, was a subject for tribute by the city council last week in connection with the 91st anniversary of the Alumni Association celebrated last Saturday.

Former Mayor Fletcher Bowron, current president of the high school Alumni Association, accepted the scroll in the name of O'Melveny, who died in 1941.

The commendatory resolution pointed out that O'Melveny's Abstract Co., which later grew into the Title Insurance and Trust Company. An outstanding lawyer, he helped draft the 1898 city charter and served as a library, park and civil service commissioner.
